CANNON VICTOR ON ALL POINTS BANDIT-RIDDEN BANK ROBBED AGAIN FIVE MEN BELIEVED KILLED AS BUILDING FALLS

OKLAHOMA BANK PREPARING CLOSE DOORS FOR GOOD

THREE MEN HOLD UP AL-
LUWE BANK, ESCAPE WITH
SUM PLACED AT $2,000

NOWATA, Okla., May 22.—(P)—The bandit-ridden Bank of Alluwe, in the southeastern part of Nowata county, was robbed today as it prepared to close its doors and turn its assets over to the Bank of Chelsea, Rogers county. The Alluwe bank was a favorite with bank robbers, having been looted a number of times in the past.

J. B. Parks of Chelsea, who was assisting at the Alluwe Bank, was opening the vault in the presence of R. A. Patton, bank examiner, and four customers, when two young men entered and forced all to lie on the floor. They then made Parks open the inside vault door and the safe and obtained approximately $2,000.

The men then forced all to enter the vault, and ran from the bank to a small coupe where a third man was waiting, driving eastward. Nowata county officers were notified as soon as Parks could work the combination with a penknife and open the vault door.

CLAREMORE, Okla., May 22.—(P)—A report received at the Rogers county sheriff's office here about noon said the automobile used by the three Alluwe bank robbers had been found abandoned 12 miles west of Chelsea and that the three men were believed surrounded by officers in nearby timber.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(P)—F. Scott McBride, of the Anti-Saloon league, told the senate today that the Hoover administration is "making good on prohibition enforcement," but that it was too early to say whether the league would support Hoover for re-election.

"What are the accomplishments?" Senator Caraway demanded.

"They are so many that it would burden the record," McBride said. "It would burden you to think of one," Caraway said.

McBride said he thought the transfer of prohibition enforcement from the treasury to the justice department would be a good thing.

DALLAS, May 22.—(P)—Mrs. R. L. Works, 25, of Brownsville, Texas, wife of a prominent eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, was given emergency treatment at a downtown hotel and removed to a hospital in a serious condition early today after she had swallowed a liquid disinfectant.

The following friends were my guests at dinner on the roof of the Adolphus hotel Wednesday night: Mr. and Mrs. Houston Page of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Snipes of Dallas; Mr. G. PROBE BEING CONDUCTED OF ALLEGED PAYMENTS MADE TO SON VICE PRESIDENT CURTIS

CHICAGO, May 22.—(P)—An investigation of complaints that certain contractors sought "influence" at Washington to gain government contracts centered today around Harry K. Curtis, whose father is vice president of the United States.

Curtis, a Chicago lawyer, was questioned at length yesterday by Pat Roche, special investigator for the state's attorney, who is conducting the inquiry. He told of his dealings with and of legal work done for a group of contractors, but declared his part had been merely that of an attorney.

There have been no charges. Roche made clear that any "pull" was over exercised in behalf of the contractors, and that he had any statements tending to place him in any improper position in the affair were untrue.

STEEL COLLAPSED WHILE BUILDING IS BEING CONSTRUCTED

EIGHTEEN MEN REPORTED
BURIED UNDER WRECKAGE
AND FIVE REPORTED DEAD

NEW YORK, May 22.—(P)—Eighteen men were reported to have fallen from the second floor of a building under construction on the midtown west side today when steel work collapsed. A number of men were at work on the structure.

Five men were believed by police, after a hurried check, to have been killed and fifteen others to have been injured. The building was being erected at Fifty-first Street and Eleventh avenue for a baking company, and the steelwork had reached the fourth floor. The cause of its collapse could not be quickly ascertained.

The first ambulance corps to arrive removed two bodies from the ruins.

The crash as the steel girders gave way was heard for blocks summoning crowds which found workmen entombed beneath a mass of twisted steel and timbers.

Six ambulances, a rescue squad, hook and ladder companies and police from six precincts hastened to the scene, and four priests hurried from the church of the Sacred Heart to administer the last rites to dying men.

One great girder was flung across the street and into the side of the building of the Brambach Piano company, terrifying women workers but injuring none of them.

Man Arrested For Woman's Death Dies

LONDON, Ont., May 22.—(P)—Arrested here today in connection with the death of Rita Gardner from poison in Montreal, George Redfern, 42-year-old salesman of Kitchener, collapsed and died.

Redfern, sought throughout Canada and along the border cities of the United States for almost two weeks, was arrested when he lacked the money to pay a $90 tax bill.

WASHINGTON CITY SHOWS SUBSTANTIAL TEN-YEAR GROWTH

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(P)—The 1920 census, seventy-first city in 1920, today came into the 1930 census list with a 9.7 per cent increase, passing two Massachusetts cities, Lynn, sixty-ninth, and Lowell, sixty-first, in the last census.

hids were to be received by the government, and to get information as to specifications. Curtis said he accepted this commission. "Perfectly legal work that any attorney could do," he added.

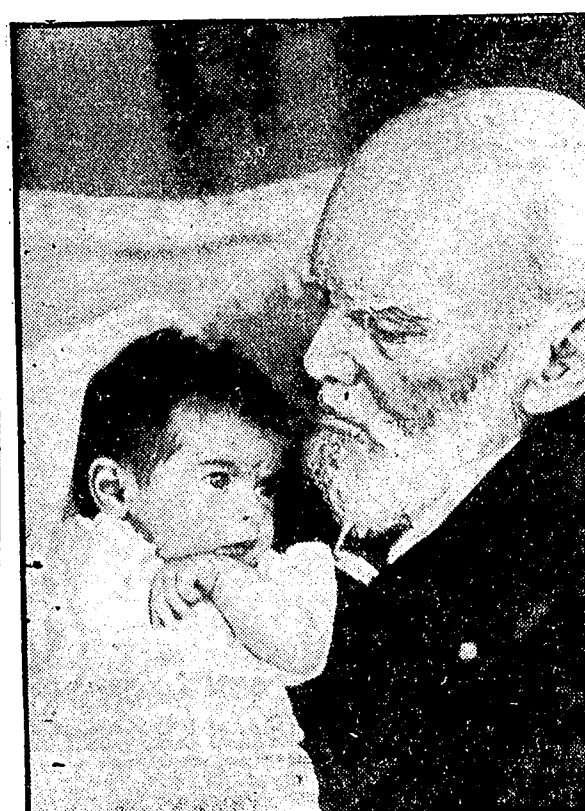

A month later Curtis learned his name was being used as a surety that contractors would receive work by paying money to him. Curtis said he immediately withdrew as counsel for the group and returned all fees received.

The state's attorney's investigation was started following a complaint by M. C. Travis, real estate man. He said Malloy had taken him to Curtis' office and had turned over $500, and that he had received a check for $500.

He cancelled check for $500, with Curtis' endorsement on it.

Carl Thorgersen, another contractor, told of a similar experience, but declared he would make no formal complaint. Angelo Zucchi, architect, and Max Kovarsky, plumbing contractor, told the state's attorney they wanted their money back, and that they intended to go to court for it, if necessary.

STORIES OF TRAGEDY AND HUMOR COME FROM FLOODED AREA TEXAS AND ARKANSAS

(By The Associated Press.)
Stories fraught with tragedy and humor were being revealed today to Red Cross relief workers laboring among refugees in Northeast Texas and Southwest Arkansas, along the flooded bayous and farm-lands bordering the Red river.

Dying in a cabin surrounded by waters from a Red river levee break in Little River county, Ark., Adie Walker, negro girl, was placed in a coffin transported by a skiff and the funeral procession journeyed to shore in boats to bury her.

At the same time, a search was being made for the body of her brother, Sonny, 14, who was washed from the back of a horse by backwater current into a flooded creek.

Tom Hodnett, aged Miller county fisherman, was caught unprepared, without a boat, in the 1927 flood, but last week when the flood waters came, he had ready a skiff.

ALL INMATES BOYS' ORPHANAGE SAVED AS BUILDING DESTROYED

MILWAUKEE, May 22.—(P)—The 130 small boys and 26 nuns at St. Aemilian's orphanage of the St. Francis order trooped down the fire escape in their night clothes shortly after 1 a. m. today as fire destroyed the $250,000 building.

Though the fire broke out in the dead of night when all were asleep, none was killed or injured.

A party in a passing automobile discovered the fire. They hurried brick through the windows to arouse the nuns and children. The sisters took charge of the children and directed them without panic to the fire escapes and safety.

Firemen from Milwaukee were called to aid the volunteer fire-fighters who answered the first alarm. The orphanage is on the campus of St. Francis seminary, just outside the Milwaukee city limits and one shore of Lake Michigan.

The origin of the fire was not determined.

NATIONALIST CAMP RAIDED AND WIPED OUT BY GOVERNMENT

ESTIMATES OF NUMBER OF INJURED IN WEDNESDAY
CLASH ARE CONFLICTING

BOMBAY, May 22.—(P)—British troops—a contingent from Hyderabad regiment—was sent today to the government-operated salt depot at Dharsana to prevent further raiding by Indian Nationalist volunteers.

Simultaneously Nationalist headquarters there announced that the next mass raid would take place Sunday. Hitherto, only police, some armed, but principally with lathis, or staves, have been depended upon to maintain order at the salt depots.

Police and troops raided the Nationalist camp at Untai, near Dharsana today, and destroyed it, remaining in complete control of the area. At Wadala a party of 100 raiders divided themselves into two batches, and were arrested. Of a second party 18 were arrested, but the remainder succeeded in getting away with some salt.

The British government issued a statement saying that only three or four of the Nationalist volunteers had been injured in the clash with police during the raiding at Dharsana. The government estimated that 2,600 volunteers took part in the raid. The communists, however, said the all-India national congress estimated the total number of seriously injured at 170. Other estimates were as high as 634. Injuries received by police were limited to bruises and scratches.

Many Injured In Air Raid.
Alarming news came from the northwest frontier, a report from Peshawar saying that severe casualties had been inflicted by British bombers on the forces of the Hajj or Turanji, which have remained in a threatening position near the Indian border since being ginned off the bank of India, begun yesterday, continued today, with the numbers of those withdrawing their positions somewhat smaller.

The directorate of the bank issued a statement that the institution's manager had not participated in the police action in

"TSE SORRY BUT IT'S TOO LATE NOW" SAYS SLAYER OF TWO WHITES AT EXECUTION

HUNTSVILLE, May 22.—(P)—"The sorry I did it, but I guess it's too late now. Tell my baby I'll meet her at the beautiful gates."

With these words, Jordan Scott, 32-year-old negro farmer of Moody, near Waco, paid with his life at 12:15 a. m. in the state penitentiary here for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Deigo, white, neighbors on an adjoining farm, whom he shot to death March 7, 1929, in the presence of their 3-year-old daughter after a quarrel with Deigo over a debt.

An electric current at 12:07 a. m. stilled Scott's shaking limbs, and he was pronounced dead eight minutes later.

Remorse, hope of divine forgiveness and his message to his daughter were contained in a somewhat lengthy statement preceding the execution. Although he had been supported by two guards as he came in through the "little green door" of the death chamber, he talked fluently and excitedly, even necessitating the lifting of the death mark as it was first adjusted so that his last words could be heard.

AND APPROACHES GOAL

FERNANDO DO NORONHA, Brazil, May 22.—(P)—The huge dirigible Graf Zeppelin, rapidly nearing the end of the South Atlantic flight from Seville, Spain, to Pernambuco, flew over the island of Fernando do Noronha off the Brazilian coast 12:45 p. m. today (10:40 a. m. E. S. T.).

After circling around the penal colony for fifteen minutes, the Graf Zeppelin turned her nose toward the Brazilian coast 12:45 p. m. and started on the final lap to Pernambuco.

RIO JANEIRO, Brazil, May 22.—(P)—The dirigible Graf Zeppelin, bound for Pernambuco and Rio Janeiro, crossed the equator this morning and made her first appearance in the southern hemisphere.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, who was making his first crossing of the equator, became a member of Neptune's Band in accordance with the time-honored tradition of the sea. He was baptized by other members of the party who had already had their baptism as Neptune's sons and daughters.

Radio advices picked up at the Olinda station said that the Graf expected to reach Pernambuco this evening and stay there several days.

hours, then going on to Rio Janeiro. After a brief stay at the Brazilian capital it planned to return to Pernambuco so as to be able to start for Havana Sunday or Monday.

Pernambuco Ready To Greet Zeppelin

PERNAMBUCO, Brazil, May 22.—(P)—Northwestern Brazil and its most northerly section of the South American continent was preparing today for the arrival of the Graf Zeppelin, reported steadily approaching the coast from Seville, Spain.

It was not certain yet whether the zeppelin would stop here before proceeding on to Rio Janeiro, or would wait until returning and stop as it proceeded north to Havana and Laredo. An amateur radio operator at Natal intercepted a message from the craft which said:

"After dinner Dr. Eckner talked to the passengers and said he was not yet sure of the exact route (Pernambuco) for water, or sailing on directly to Rio Janeiro. The day has been over-cast, but the Cape Verde Islands frequently broke in to view through the clouds—a wonderful panorama."

Previously Dr. Eckner had radioed that he expected to land at Pernambuco on Sunday morning, the water, remaining there about three hours. He then would continue on to Rio Janeiro, a distance of about 1,250 miles, arriving Friday morning. The stop at Rio Janeiro is expected to be very short.

The only difficulty thus far reported aboard the ship was in consumption of water due to the heat, which placed the passengers on a restricted basis for personal use.

One Passenger Ill

A radio message received at Natal said that Dr. Meijas, personal physician to the king of Spain and a passenger aboard the ship, had been called upon to give medical aid to one of the crew who was ill. Dr. Meijas said that this proved the necessity of having a doctor aboard the ship on every trip, since many passengers never had been able to adapt themselves to travel by air.

The mooring mast constructed for the Zeppelin was painted red and white for greatest visibility, and a watchman was stationed at the highest point to get the first glimpse of the visitors from over the sea. Grandstands were erected and provisions made for parking motor cars to accommodate visitors.

People gathered from all over the surrounding country, to witness the arrival of the Graf. Entrance fees to the field for those who wished to see the landing ranged from 60 cents to $1.25 with higher prices for motor cars.

The Zeppelin passed the Cape Verde Islands at 12:15 p. m. E. S. T. yesterday, dropping in mail at Porto Praia and at Sao Thilago by means of parachutes. Sight of the ship was said to have aroused the utmost consternation, particularly in Porto Praia, where the town's 60,000 negro inhabitants rushed into the streets, fear-stricken.

Nearing Coast

RIO JANEIRO, May 22.—(P)—The Graf Zeppelin, flying from Seville to Pernambuco, Brazil, gave its position at 4:30 a. m. G. M. T. (11:30 p. m. E. S. T. Wednesday) latitude 5:12 north, longitude 27:42 west. The position was about 200 miles northeast of St. Paul's Rock.

Had Crossed Equator.
FERNANDO DO NORONHA, Brazil, May 22.—(P)—The Graf Zeppelin this morning reported its position as 250 miles distant from this island, which is about 175 miles from Pernambuco, its goal in a Seville-to-Brazil trans-Atlantic flight. Apparently the ship had crossed the equator.

The Zeppelin reported that navigating conditions were fine. The radio station here for the first time was in constant direct communication with the dirigible.

Dan Moody Snipes Tom Love; Urged to Announce Campaign

AUSTIN, May 22.—(P)—People from widely scattered parts of Texas are petitioning Governor Moody to announce his candidacy for a third term, he said today. He declared he was receiving scores of letters urging him to make the democratic nomination.

"This goes to show that Senator Tom Love will not receive the votes of all the faction that bolted in 1928," he commented, as he read the letter from a person who had not voted for former Governor Alfred Smith of New York for president.

"Not a single person has told me that I should not run," he continued. "Some of my friends have said I should be an expensive sacrifice for me to make and might mean personal bankruptcy, but none has pleaded with me not to become a candidate."

shortly thereafter the balance of the party followed.

"In some manner unknown, Mrs. Works had a small bottle of disinfectant and in the belief of all of the other members of the party—through mistake, she undoubtedly through her throat, evidently swallowing a portion of the liquid."

Wife of Prominent Physician

Mrs. Works is the wife of a prominent physician of Brownsville, and a lady of the highest standing. None of her friends believe the taking of the liquid was other than an unfortunate accident.

"I am informed Mrs. Works is resting easily at a local hospital, with every chance of recovery."

Police attention was called when a news vendor at the corner of Akard and Commerce streets picked up a bottle and handed it to the police with a report that the bottle had crashed to the street near him from a window of the hotel.

N. D. Bailey, sergeant of police, and Patrolman Jones went to Mr. Creager's suite to investigate. First aid was administered to Mrs. Works by Dr. T. A. Kinder, emergency hospital surgeon.

The screen in the bath room window had been cut or broken and a bottle hurled through.

Came to Attend Convention.
According to information given to the police and shown on their records, Mrs. Works, accompanied by two other women, came to Dallas to attend a church convention.

Mr. Creager came to Dallas on political business. He recently lost a $500,000 libel suit against Collier Weekly, the case being tried at Brownsville.

According to information received here, Dr. Works was notified at Brownsville of his wife's condition and started for Dallas by train. He was expected to arrive here late today.

vidual sniffer, hampering the Red Cross program of typhoid inoculation. Difficulty was being experienced in obtaining sufficient quinine for malaria sufferers.

Uniforms Tattered.
Red Cross relief men soon learned not to wear uniforms into some of the Miller county flood areas. A boy scout executive in khaki, representing the Red Cross, warned he might be mistaken for a "revenoer" in a country where moonshining is still not an infrequent occupation.

His approach in conversations thereafter was, "Listen, I'm with the Red Cross."

Removal of several hundred yards of stagnant surface water covering highway 71 north of the Index bridge was Texarkana's only hope against isolation from the north and east.

Automobiles had been driving through water up to running boards, under surveillance of highway guards, but yesterday the road was ordered closed.

Levee commissioners announced the levee would be cut to permit the exit of cooped-up waters, but river observers predicted it would recede a week before the river would recede enough to permit drainage of the highway area.

Highway 67 was blocked at Fulton and state highway "O. 2, at Garland.

Airmen were seizing the opportunity of closed highways and crippled rail service to advertise cross-country hops for passengers to Tulsa, El Dorado, and other cities.

Streams in Texas generally were receding, although reports from the Trinity river had caused considerable damage on the Ferguson state farm, 30 miles northwest of Huntsville.

Officials of the Ferguson farm estimated that 800 acres were under water, while 700 acres of the Eastham farm were inundated. It was estimated 1,000 acres on each farm would be flooded before the crest of the flood was reached.

SHREVEPORT, La., May 22.—(P)—Warned by the government weather bureau at New Orleans, the people of the Red river valley today prepared to meet as large a quantity of water as came down the river in the great flood of 1927.

Overflow from Caddo Lake approached the Agurs section of Shreveport, being plainly visible from the outskirts of the city, and merchants of that section of the city continued to move stocks of goods to higher shelves or to warehouses in more elevated locations.

The water threatening Shreveport has come from Cypre bayou, which pouring into Caddo lake, has forced that body over its banks.

Freestone County Farmers at Work

TEAGUE, May 22.—A few days of pretty weather have made it possible for farmers to start farming operations, although many have started plowing in the mud. At least 10 per cent of the cotton over the county has been washed away and will have to be replanted. Approximately one-half of the cotton in the county has been chopped. Many farmers have laid by their corn.

Corn stood the long rainy spell much better than the cotton.

Freak Egg Shown; Has Flower Design

Mrs. C. F. Little, Corsicana, Rt. 3, brought a freak hen egg to the Daily Sun office Tuesday afternoon, the shape of which was slightly out of proportion with a good outline of a sunflower blossom or star visible.

The egg was of normal size, and had several other rough places on the shell.

Mrs. Little reported that this was the third such freak egg she had found during the past few days.

TWO LEADERS WIN BRACE CONTESTS TO MAINTAIN PLACES

BABE RUTH GETS THREE HOMERS BUT YANKS LOSE BOTH ENDS BARGAIN BILL

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

Although their race has been rather overshadowed by the heated struggle in the National league, the clubs of the American league have been putting on some rather interesting contests of their own for the higher positions in the standing.

More can be asked of the two leaders, the surprising Washington Senators and the Philadelphia Athletics, current champions, than the place they have been setting. They are separated only by a one game margin, the Senators having two more victories, and neither seems to be able to do anything to increase or decrease.

Washington won six games in a row, but the Athletics are right behind.

Senators-Macks Win. They both engaged in double headers yesterday, with the Athletics winning both games, and the Senators losing both. The Athletics won the first game, 2 to 1, and the Senators won the second, 2 to 1.

The Athletics got off to a very bad start against the New York Yankees when Babe Ruth hit two home runs in the first two innings, and started the Yankees off to a 6-0 lead, but those six runs meant little as the world's champions lost with a rally that brought nine runs in the eighth and a 15 to 7 victory.

Rube Walberg pitched the A's to a 4 to 1 victory in the second game, holding New York to five hits.

Ruth's feat of home run hitting stole the show at Philadelphia. In addition to the two successive homers, the Babe added a third in the same game.

Second Division Bunched. These twin bills with single victories for Chicago and St. Louis, drew the second division clubs close together. Chicago in fifth place, is but 2 1/2 games ahead of the eighth place Detroit Tigers.

Chicago won the first game, 3 to 2, and Detroit won the second, 3 to 1. Ted Lyons led the Sox by making three hits, and driving in three runs in addition to pitching a fine game for his seventh win of the year.

The St. Louis Browns moved into sixth place by edging out a 6 to 5 victory over Cleveland, gained through a four run rally in the sixth inning.

The National league consolidated its lineup as the four first division clubs defeated second division contenders. The leading Brooklyn Robins scored three runs, four hits, to beat the Boston Braves 12 to 1.

Cards Receive Gift. The St. Louis Cardinals got a big break when Jackie May of Cincinnati cut loose at wild pitch with a man on third and broke a 2-2 tie to give the Cards a 3-2 victory.

Pittsburgh held its precarious grip on third place by defeating the Cincinnati Reds 3 to 1.

New York's Giants, after suffering various vicissitudes, started hitting properly again with the appearance of Philadelphia ace, an 11 to 4 count.

HUMBLE OILERS WIN OVER BAZETTE TO RETAIN LEAD

In a baseball game featured by the all-round play of Shook, Humble third baseman, the pitching of Garlington and Robinson, the Humble Oilers retained the leadership of the county baseball league by winning over the Bazette nine Wednesday afternoon, 7-1, on the Humble diamond.

The contest was one of the best of the season, with both teams playing well, but bad weather conditions prevented the teams meeting.

Arnold pitched a good game for the losing aggregation, and in reality should have held the Humble nine to a closer score, with five of the league leading nines runs really earned off his delivery.

Sunday
Bloomington at Humble.
Magnolia at White's Chapel.
Bazette at American Well (Municipal park).

The Humble nine continues to lead the Navarro County league with a perfect percentage by defeating the Bazette nine Wednesday afternoon 7-1 in a make up contest, one of the numerous games which have been postponed between the two clubs due to inclement weather.

In the other contest played Wednesday afternoon, the White's Chapel nine scored nine runs, four hits, to win over the Bloomington nine, 6-2.

This contest was featured by fast fielding, three double plays were executed during the melee.

During the first month of the league's existence, there have been eleven scheduled contests rained out, and the sixteen that were played were delayed or postponed.

With the advent of pretty showers, there should be a number of contests played to make up for the contests rained out.

The Humble nine was hardest hit by rain out contests, having five games postponed on that account, and two by special dispensation by the league board of directors.

When these teams have played approximately an even number of games, one can really judge the strength and weakness of the various teams.

With the contests played Wednesday afternoon, the league standings came closer and the fight for the championship of the first half is far from being decided.

There are twenty teams to be played each team during the first lap of the league race, and during the next month the race will be decided. Especially if rain out contests are delayed.

Games of special importance for the week-end include the Humble-Bloomington games Sunday and the American Well-Bloomington game Saturday afternoon.

The first mentioned contest will count for two games won or lost in the percentage column, according to a ruling from the league headquarters.

The Gumbo Buster-Bloomington game assumes an important aspect as this will be the first meeting of these two nines.

Play is progressing in the city-wide tennis tournament, sponsored by the local Y. M. C. A., and according to present plans, it will be completed by the middle of next week.

There is no outstanding favorite in the result of the first elimination round matches and it looks like anybody's tournament.

Golf tournaments, postponed on account of rain are now under way on both the country club and Lakeview courses. Several elimination round matches were played at the country club Wednesday afternoon.

The tournament at the Lakeview golf and country club does not start until Monday afternoon, but a number of golfers are qualifying for the event.

Plans are being made to have four flights in the Lakeview tournament, which means that 64 golfers will compete. Prizes will be given by the management of the course for championship of each flight.

WHITE'S CHAPEL IS WINNER OVER BLOOMING GROVE

Breaking loose in the second inning to score five runs, the Whites Chapel nine defeated the Bloomington nine Wednesday afternoon, 6-2, on the Whites Chapel diamond.

The contest was originally scheduled for last Sunday afternoon, but postponed on account of the heavy rains.

Ross, new recruit for the White's Chapel nine, went the route and although he allowed 11 hits, was effective in the pinches, striking out six men.

The winning nine secured only seven hits, which were bunched in the second inning to chase the five runs across.

Hitting honors for the day went to Doyle Kenmore, who hit three singles in four attempts. C. Stover, E. Stover and Melton each secured two singles.

Fast fielding featured the contest, three double plays being made during the game.

WALTER NEWMAN CURBS BUFFS TO HOIST STANDING

DICK WHITWORTH BLANKS SHREVEPORT; STEERS KICK ANOTHER AWAY

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

The Beaumont Exporters continue to get a brand of pitching that nobody thought they had, and the result is that they continue to stay in the thick of the scramble for the Texas league pinnacles.

Del Baker, who left a good catching job with Fort Worth to take over the reins for Owner Rube Stuart, either has worked wonders with a mediocre batch of flingers, or those same pitchers have selected this year to attain a form they never knew before.

Yesterday it was Walter Newman, the righthander from Cuero, who has been trying to pitch Texas league baseball for four or five years with very little success and who has been out of the Cotton States. He held the Houston Buffs to five scattered hits and fanned seven to tie the second-place Beaumont, 6 to 1, and hoist the exporters within three games of the top.

Whitworth Blanks Sports. In the day's second fine mound performance, Dick Whitworth set a new record for the Beaumont Exporters, blanking the Houston Buffs, 5 to 0, in their series opener.

Shreveport showed up to within four games of the lead by taking the game from the dehorned Dallas Steers, 8 to 3. It was quite a ball game until the ninth, when Paulo Wachtel's support fell apart and the Sports chased across five unearned runs.

The Dixie champions—as was did not fall into the cellar only because the San Antonio Indians managed to lose to Waco, 7 to 5, in an 11-inning struggle.

VARIED FIELD OF
GOLFERS REMAINED IN QUARTER FINALS

HOUSTON, May 22.—(AP)—Veterans, youngsters and the in-betweeners still were in the championship competition today as quarter-finals in the Texas Amateur Golf Association annual tournament got under way.

W. C. Hunt of Houston, whose clubs have moved through many a year, was paired with a fellow townsman, L. L. Atwell, who shot the tournaments only hole in one to date.

Another of the old timers, George Otan of Houston, was matched against Glenn Crisman of Orange, and the favorite, the favorite, had Gaston Peek of Galveston, for an opponent, and Bud McKinley, the Del Rio boy who reeks not of form and careers, was set against Clyde Cunningham still another Houston player.

Bud, his long pants fluttering in the breeze, stood with characteristic deliberation yesterday before a big gallery and sank a seven foot putt on the 18th hole to nose out Hill Cooke, a steady McAllen man who apparently had been underdog in this meet, and survive where most everybody had thought he would fail.

For Carlton, for Hunt and for Rotan it was easy. Carlton casually disposed of Dr. M. Hill of Dallas, 6 and 5; Hunt beat W. F. McGonigall of the local links three and one without much apparent effort, and Rotan, taking the first seven holes, defeated Jack Dold, Houston, seven and six.

Atwell, at a trouble with the Dallas Munny player, Lanham Connor, finally putting him away one up on the 19th. Cunningham beat Dick Niles of Houston, two up; Peak turned in a 3 and 1 over F. M. D. S. Godwin, 2 and 1; Crisman beat Dick Gregg or Austin two up.

U. S. DAVIS CUP
TEAM TO OPPOSING
MEXICAN ENTRIES

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—Opposition to the flexible amendment to the tariff bill whereby the president's power to change customs duties would be sharply curtailed was discussed by the committee on tariff and customs of the House of Representatives today.

As described by Senator Watson, the Republican leader and one of the conferees, the new plan would authorize the tariff commission to report in emergencies what it believed to be a fair change in a tariff and the president would be required to proclaim the rate in effect or veto it.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—The senate and house tariff conferees today endorsed a compromise agreement on the only major dispute of the Smoot-Hawley bill remaining unsettled, that involving the president's authority to proclaim emergency changes in customs rates.

With an eye to gaining democratic support and thus facilitating senate passage, the majority manager of the two houses were considering a plan under which the chief executive's power in this connection would be measurably curtailed.

Mr. Hoover has indicated a willingness to surrender some of the authority given him by existing law. The conferees late yesterday agreed to abandon the export duty plan which the senate coalition wrote into the bill.

Immigration Bill Passed. WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—A revised form of the senate bill to restrict Mexican immigration was approved today by the house immigration committee, over state department opposition.

The measure would put immigration from the southern republic under the new system, with an annual maximum of between 1200 and 1500.

Texas Court Bill Passed. WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—The senate today passed and sent to the house a bill by Senator Sheppard, democrat, Texas, fixing new terms for holding court in the western district of Texas.

The measure also requires the clerk or deputy to maintain an office at Sherman, Beaumont, Texarkana and Tyler.

Discarded Guardians "Hot Corner" Thrive San Antonio Climate

SAN ANTONIO, May 21.—(AP)—The climate of San Antonio apparently agrees with discarded third-basemen.

Last season Jodie Tate, presumably having worn out his usefulness with the Dallas Steers, was given a tryout with San Antonio and he made good at the hot corner with a bang.

He led the batting race for several weeks and continued to hit the ball hard until August when he slumped a bit.

But Tate appears to have caught a new lease on life at the hot corner. Released by Beaumont at the start of this season, Tate caught on with San Antonio, and immediately the team surprised.

BLOOMING GROVE
IS WINNER OVER
WHITE'S CHAPEL

BLOOMING GROVE, May 19.—(AP)—Coming a five run lead late in the game, the Bloomington nine defeated the Whites Chapel team 8-7 here Saturday afternoon in the only contest played in the Navarro County Amateur Baseball league last week-end.

The two teams were scheduled to meet Sunday afternoon on the Whites Chapel diamond, but heavy rains caused the postponement of the game, it is expected that the contest will be played Wednesday afternoon if weather conditions permit.

After being held helpless for four innings by the curves of Spurluck, the local found relief, batting eyes and pounded six runs out, hit to chase across four runs in the fifth. Weeks replaced Spurluck for the visitors and the winning run was scored off him in the eighth inning.

A determined rally on the part of the Whites Chapel crew in the first half of the ninth inning fell one run short of knotting the count.

The game firmly entrenched the Bloomington nine in third place in the standing of the league and shoved the Whites Chapel nine farther into the league cellar.

Jefferson Threatened. Jefferson, in Marion county, had only one highway outlet open, that to Pittsburg. Flood waters from Big Cypress creek had crept up into the main street of the town, was standing several inches deep and threatened inundation of the court-house and invasion of residential streets.

Fearing danger of typhoid from contamination of drinking water used by refugees in Miller and Jefferson counties, the Red Cross launched a campaign for immunization of those who may have been exposed to contagion.

Dr. J. L. Cline, government weather observer at Dallas, predicted that recession of flood waters in the Trinity river would begin today, although the river had reached a stage of 34.5 feet last night, nearly ten feet above the bankful level. It was expected to reach a stage of 42 feet at Trinidad.

Although railroad schedules were being resumed, after washouts were repaired, highways in many directions still remained impassable or difficult for travel.

Highway Traffic Demoralized. Roads from Dallas to Mabank, Athens, Palestine, and between Texas and Oklahoma, Colorado, Corsicana and Mexico, were impassable. The road from Waco to Cameron, Hearne, Navasota, Hempstead and to Houston was passable to passenger cars only, and a temporary bridge between Waco and Cameron. Busses could not reach Houston via Bryan and Waco or by way of Corsicana and Huntsville. Those schedules temporarily were suspended.

The Brazos and Bosque rivers, in Central Texas, were well below their flood levels and falling steadily, affording relief to fears of residents in East Waco that their section of the city might be flooded.

Replanting of many acres of cotton was expected to be necessary after violent rain and hail storms last week had beaten plants out of the ground.

The Colorado river at Austin was rising slowly but last night was only at 5 feet, far below the flood level of 18 feet.

THREATENS HOMES

JEFFERSON, May 20.—(AP)—Flood waters were running through the streets of Jefferson's business area from a depth of two inches to one foot today as the Cypress river reached a stage of 28.3 feet, the highest on record.

More than half the town of 2,500 population was inundated, and water was two to three feet deep in many residences in the lower sections.

Between 200 and 300 residences had been abandoned, and merchants were moving their goods to safety, as it was expected the flood waters would rise several inches in some of the buildings.

Most of the highways were under at least three feet of water and traffic over them was at a stand

Former Resident Of Frost Regrets Recent Tragedy

Tahoka, Tex., May 19, 1930. Corsicana Semi-Weekly Light.

Will you please print a few lines from a subscriber to your valuable paper. Permit me to say, I think the Semi-Weekly Light the best country paper I ever saw. It gives the general news equal to the big dailies and has as fine editorials as anybody's paper.

We are always glad to receive the Light. It is just like getting a big, fat letter from home, as I lived in Navarro county on the farm I was born on, for 44 years, and number of my friends in Navarro county by the thousands.

My heart was made sad, indeed, when I read the account of the awful disaster that befell my home town of Frost, killing and wounding so many of my friends. I was in the sanitarium at Lubbock at the time.

I have had two serious operations at a heavy financial cost. The next morning after the awful storm, the newsboy came to my room with the papers. When I read the account of what had happened at Frost, I could not help crying, and said, "Oh, God, have mercy." At that time my nurse came in and asked what was the matter. I was so deeply affected I could not answer her, just handed her the paper. I was to have left the sanitarium that evening, but did not get to leave until four days later. I had received a great favor just a few days before from a citizen of Frost.

I wish I was able, physically and financially, to come to Frost to help in the relief work, but I am just able to be up part of the time. Am glad that it has been put into the heart of the people to help as they have in the relief work and that the good work continues.

The citizens of Frost are to be congratulated for their determination to reconstruct and the rehabilitation of a better little city.

I always knew there were a lot of real men and women lived in Frost, which is being proven by their courage and determination to force a better life in the face of such an awful disaster.

I hope and pray the injured and the dead have my deepest sympathy. I pray the good Lord will comfort their hearts in the sad hours of bereavement, hope and pray that we all may live so when God calls us, too, whether at our work or at play, at night or day, we will be ready for the call.

And when our feet touch the swollen tide, We'll bid farewell to the conflicts of life, We'll say farewell to beds of afflictions, then we can sing, When I can read my title clear, to mansions in the sky, A building of God, eternal in the heavens.

May the good Lord bless you all in my prayer.

We have no crops to speak of here yet. We had a bad rain and hailstorm here last week. Most all crops will have to be replanted. Some parts of the country is still to dry to get crops up.

A. L. DUNAGAN.

FUTURE HOLDS MUCH.

Citizens of Corsicana and Navarro county should view the census count with considerable satisfaction. With both the city and county showing such substantial gains in population in the face of other communities showing a loss the future is indeed bright. There is no doubt this steady population growth will continue which indicates increased prosperity in all lines of endeavor. This community is rich in natural resources and business opportunities and outside interests are rapidly realizing this fact. When the hard-surfaced highway system is completed through the county and further oil development is under way the citizens of Corsicana and Navarro county are due to see some rapid and wonderful changes within the next ten years. Invest in Corsicana and Navarro county. The investment will pay you big returns.

FEDERAL ROADS

President Hoover, in approving the Dowell-Phipps bill, pledged the federal government to the expenditure of $125,000,000 a year for the next three fiscal years for the construction of federal-aid roads. That money will be spent if it is matched by state appropriations.

This measure is a drastic departure from a major policy of Calvin Coolidge while president. There are obvious objections to it in principle which led Mr. Coolidge to suggest that not only should there be no additions to the system of state aid grants, but there should be retrenchment.

Chief among the Coolidge objections to the plan was its tendency to encourage state administrations to boost taxes inordinately to raise sufficient funds to match federal appropriations. Only by matching the federal money dollar for dollar can a state claim its share. Agricultural states have complained that in consequence their farmers have been overburdened with taxes.

Another complainant is the wealthy state which has reduced its unimproved highway mileage to a figure below that of states paying but a fraction as much federal tax but receiving larger grants on the unimproved-mileage basis of apportionment of federal funds. The system creates a situation where the taxpayers of one state pay the bill while taxpayers of another state get the most federal roads.

Perhaps the most convincing argument in answer to the latter complaint is the increase in interstate motor touring. Transcontinental tourists are among the most zealous agitators for use of federal funds for improving cross-country routes through impoverished states.

BORROWING TROUBLE.

Despite the fact that most troubles never happen, man goes on fearing something that may not come to pass and which he, by no means within his power, could prevent, should it be destined to come about. Canadians are reported to be alarmed over predictions that there will be no summer this year. They may be relying for this foreboding on a fortune teller or a long-distance weather prophet, both equally without accurate knowledge of the future. They have harked back to 1816, which is said to have been a "year without summer." What has happened once may happen again but there is no assurance that it will.

There is a difference between forethought for that

Her dainty little summer hat

CONFIDENCE AND CONCEIT

Efficiency experts and practitioners in the art of super-salesmanship lay stress on what is casually termed "self-confidence." To sell one's product or to sell one's self, they say, one must have confidence in one's products or in one's ability and talents.

But there is a wide difference between legitimate self-confidence and stupid conceit. The latter quality, unfortunately, is to be found in many persons, in many different walks of life, and when displayed to any noticeable degree at all, is insufferable. Beautiful women, that is, those who are asturally beautiful and do not have to depend upon artificial aids, often take on the air of having been altogether responsible for their pulchritude. They forget that fate just as easily might have made them hideous. And the same thing is true of the handsome youth who, realizing his handsomeness, affects the role of having been altogether responsible for his good looks. Fate might just as easily have marred him, too.

Conceit, however, takes its worst form in those human frames which lay claim to more than the average brains or intellectuality, and this applies particularly to professional walks of life. Even in the matter of brains or intellect, whatever gods there be obviously are as capable of producing morons as they are of producing intellectual giants. The most beautiful woman, of course, is that woman who, although quite lovely, seems unconscious of it. And the wisest man is he who realizes that mortal wisdom, and especially his own endowment of it, has many limitations.

THE DESPOILERS

It was probably wasted effort, time and money, but it was a duty that demanded attention. Reference is to the bulletin on dogwood circulated throughout the country by the Wildflower Preservation Society. That bulletin reads, in part:

"None of our flowering plants has been subject to such ruthless destruction as the dogwood. In most places during the flowering period, which varies from April to May, according to latitude, a majority of the automobiles returning home on a pleasant Sunday will be found loaded with the flowering branches. Often on reaching home the flowers are badly wilted, do not really revive, and are then thrown away."

Sunday raids on the dogwoods are bringing that beautiful flowering wild shrub to the verge of extinction and denuding the hill-sides of one of their most beautiful features. Motor-ing in the dogwood season would lose half its charm if there were no blossoms among the fresh green.

How thoughtless and inconsiderate those persons must be who find the roadside dogwood so beautiful and desirable that they will rob others of the pleasure that has been theirs by the grace of nature. Why can they not feast their eyes to satiety and then let others do likewise?

which man can control and worrying about that which is beyond his power to influence. Man is not responsible for what nature hands out, though he is responsible for the manner in which he does his part. The problem of the kind of a summer 1930 will have may be solved when it is reached. It is foolish to reckon losses now. It is more probable they will not happen.

A DANGEROUS BACK SEAT DRIVER

CURTAILING THE LAW'S DELAY.

Completion of the draft code of criminal procedure projected by the American Law Institute is the first fruit of the labors entrusted more than six years ago to various legal experts, in this instance Professors McKell and Keedy, of the University of Pennsylvania. It marks a forward step in the ambitious undertaking to restate the whole body of American law, substantive and procedural, on the basis of judicial decisions in a form that would have unquestionable authority in the courts.

Not the least of Elihu Root's public service was the plan of the American Law Institute. It received the unqualified approval of the late Chief Justice Taft, his associates in the United States supreme court and the bench and bar of the country. Judges and practitioners are agreed in believing that the immediate need of law reform rests chiefly in such changes of procedure as will insure greater speed in the administration of justice, both civil and criminal. Most pressing of all at the present juncture is the curtailment of the proverbial "law's delay" in the criminal courts.

Mere technicalities that do not prejudice the constitutional or legal rights of a defendant are unavailing to save him from condign punishment in most jurisdictions. Pennsylvania supreme court advances the hearing of appeals in capital cases to give them precedence over all civil appeals on the docket. Nevertheless the procedure in getting an indictment to trial and allowing various dilatory tactics is faulty in virtually every state. If in the opinion of Chief Justice Hughes and other eminent jurists, to whom the new code will be submitted for criticism, it will serve to bring about uniformity and speed in the criminal courts, the public grain will be manifest.

With over ten inches of rain now recorded for the month in Corsicana and several days yet to go we suppose it will be safe to make the statement, for the present, anyway, that this immediate vicinity is decidedly wet—the Literary Digest poll not withstanding.

The woman who conceals her age, says Dr. Eugene Lyman Fiske, is a public benefactor. The woman who conceals her age is also a woman.

CANCER INCREASING.

"Health departments everywhere now squarely face the problem of cancer control," the Public Health Service stated May 14, adding that with full organization and effectiveness of all agencies, a real reduction in cancer mortality may begin. Cancer, slowly increasing now is second among the major causes of death, it was stated.

"The only industrial occupations which are known to involve a definite tendency to cancer are those which expose the person to the action of tar and its derivatives," the statement said, and continuing pointed out: The control of cancer is becoming a subject of great prominence in public health programs throughout the world. This fact is a matter of interest to every one, because cancer is one of the greatest hazards in the adventure of living.

This disease now stands second among the major causes of death; it is exceeded only by heart disease in mortality records. It causes at least 125,000 deaths annually in the United States, and it is slowly increasing, while deaths from most other causes are decreasing.

Constipation Troubles

"I HAVE used Black-Draught as a family medicine for a good many years," says Mrs. Sallie Laugh-rin, of Huntville, N. C. "I have found it an excellent remedy for constipation and the troubles that follow it. I have suffered frequently from gas pains, and when I am bothered that way I begin at once to take Black-Draught. Relief follows quickly."

"I give Black-Draught to the children when they are constipated, and it is not long until they are running around again."

HOW about your next CORN CROP?

THERE is a way to make it the best crop you ever grew. No magic. No mystery. Simply fertilize it with Chilean Nitrate of Soda. That is the way corn champions produce those winning crops.

Texas Farmer Boy:

Laney Boyett, Garrison, Nacogdoches County, Tex., made 105 bu. and 65 lbs. of corn on his Boys Club acre. He side-dressed his crop with 200 lbs. Chilean Nitrate on June 28th. He is a 14 year old boy. How is that for a record? He is a real Corn Champion.

Chilean Nitrate is not synthetic. It is natural—the world's only natural nitrate fertilizer. As a side dressing on corn it increases the yield... often doubles it. Larger ears. More ears to the stalk. Prevents "firing" too.

Free Book about Corn

Our new book "How to Fertilize Corn in the South" tells exactly what to do to make a better crop. Book is free. Ask for Book No. 5 or tear out this ad and mail it with your name and address written on the margin.

PINCHOT'S LEAD OVER BROWN GROWS AS RETURNS COME

BIG PLURALITY OF SECRE- TARY DAVIS OVER GRUNDY IS ALSO INCREASING

PHILADELPHIA, May 22.—(P)—A plurality of 12,279 for Gifford Pinchot over Francis Shunk Brown for governor nomination for the state was shown in unofficial returns from all but 63 districts in the state in Tuesday's primary.

The tabulation for 8638 districts of the 2701 in the state showed for Pinchot 627,798; for Brown 615,519, and for Thomas W. Phillips, wet candidate, 263,660.

The missing districts are mostly in territory where Pinchot retained a heavy vote.

Secretary of Labor James J. Davis continued to gain on Senator Joseph R. Grundy for the senatorial nomination and indications were that Grundy would be defeated by nearly a quarter of a million votes.

PHILADELPHIA, May 22.—(P)—Gifford Pinchot's plurality over Francis Shunk Brown for the republican gubernatorial nomination crept slowly upward with the tabulation today of additional districts. With 182 districts missing Pinchot had a lead of 11,869.

Unofficial returns in Tuesday's primary from 8519 districts of the 1701 in the state for governor gave Pinchot 621,013; Brown 609,154 and Thomas W. Phillips, Jr., wet candidate, 260,372.

Additional returns in the senatorial fight served only to increase the big plurality given Secretary of Labor James J. Davis over Senator Joseph R. Grundy.

The unofficial vote from 8307 districts for senator gave Secretary Davis 715,454; Senator Grundy 476,808, and Francis H. Bohlen, wet, 235,574.

P. S. Stahlmecker, manager of the Pinchot campaign, said that he had been informed 42 ballot boxes in Lackawanna county had been impounded at the instance of Pinchot supporters. He said in one Lackawanna county district, 615 votes had been reported for Brown and 9 for Pinchot.

Lackawanna, of which Scranton is the center of population, was one of the six counties carried by Brown, according to unofficial returns.

A point of principal interest today in the close fight for governor was Allegheny county, where 80 districts are missing. Forty-five of these districts are in the city of Pittsburgh where the Brown vote was heavier than in most of the rest of the state except Philadelphia.

Coalitionist to Enter.

PHILADELPHIA, May 22.—(P)—Announcement that a coalition liberal candidate for governor would take the field at the November election in opposition to Gifford Pinchot was made today by the Robert J. Cassatt, chairman of the Pennsylvania division of the association against the prohibition amendment.

Television Radio Talkie Was Shown For First Time

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., May 22.—(P)—The television radio talkie, youngest and most precious child of electrical science, had its world premiere as a theatre attraction here today.

Audiences witnessed the unprecedented spectacle of an orchestra in the theatre being led in by the life-size radio television image of its conductor, who in a laboratory a few miles distant, welded his baton as he received the music of his men by telephone. Merrill Trainor, laboratory assistant or Dr. E. F. W. Alexanderson, television pioneer, was seen and heard as he explained the way in which the pictures and the sounds reached the theatre. Other performers contributed to the demonstration by gesture, vocal music and instrumental selections.

The demonstration was arranged by Dr. Alexanderson, who is consulting engineer of the General Electric Company and the Radio Corporation of America, to show the possibilities of television as a mode of entertainment.

administration," Caraway commented.

"I think the administration is making good," McBride rejoined.

Caraway asked if there is not "a greater war being made on the eighteenth amendment now than ever before."

"The wet are fighting harder now," McBride replied. "But one reason is that they are against the wall and fighting for their lives. A few more elections like the one in Pennsylvania will discourage them."

Records of the Anti-Saloon league showed the committee that it has been pledged future contributions of $18,705,922. The league superintendent, examining the records, said it would not be fair to say the amount pledged represented assets of the league, since part of the funds represented assessments which might not be paid.

McBride stated also the league was attempting to raise a fund of $300,000 a year to make a campaign in favor of the eighteenth amendment similar to the one before prohibition was adopted.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(P)—A report asserting that Senator King, democrat, Utah, had "shown no desire" to testify before the senate lobby committee in answer to testimony that German dye interests had contributed to his campaign and used his office at the capitol was submitted to the senate today by Senator Robinson, of Indiana, a republican member of the committee.

It reviewed testimony of Samuel Russell, former secretary to King, to the effect that Herman A. Metz, New York dye importer had contributed $1,000 to the Utah campaign of 1922 and another $1,000 in 1928.

A tablet marking the west end of the Chicago portage used in the early days by Joliet, Marquette and LaSalle, and earlier by the aborigines, was unveiled by the Chicago Historical Society in Chicago. The tablet reclaims the famous spot used by pioneers as a connecting link between the waters of the St. Lawrence and the Great Lakes with those of the Mississippi River and the Gulf of Mexico. MORE POWERFUL GASOLINE FOR AUTOMOBILE USE TOLD ASSOCIATION'S ANNUAL MEET

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
TULSA, Okla., May 22.—(P)—Discovery of a more powerful gasoline, a blend especially for automobiles, was announced to the Natural Gasoline association's annual convention today.

The mixture restores what the motorist likes to call "the old fashioned goodness" to gasoline, by which he means quick, easy starting in cold weather. It is described also as adding power which the "old time" gas never had, and an increasing the available gasoline supply.

The blending formula is a gift to the petroleum industry, in the form of bulletin 14 from the department of engineering research of the University of Michigan. It is non-commercial, anyone who wishes being free to use it. The development was sponsored by the Natural Gasoline association of America, and was done under direction of George Granger Brown, professor of chemical engineering and director of research for the association. He presented today the final result of work which began four years ago.

He said his findings enable oil refiners to produce gasoline not only specially adapted to the modern automobile, but particularly fitted for all ranges of temperature encountered in the United States. He restores to gasoline two ingredients which have been largely removed in recent years by the methods of production and refining. One of these is natural gasoline, found in the natural gas removed at the well mouth. It is highly volatile, vaporizing so readily that it fires easily in cold weather.

The other restored substance which gives the added power in hot weather is naphtha, usually removed in the refining and sold as such or included in kerosene. Its effect is opposite from that of natural gasoline, retarding vaporization. It comes into use when the engine is hot. In that stage the acceleration of modern engines tends to cause complete vaporizing fuel to choke and drag. Possibly most of the naphtha never vaporizes, Prof. Brown said.

But it does not interfere with the much desired vaporizing when starting or running at low or medium temperatures, while at high temperatures it effectively prevents that loss in power figuratively attributed to some high test gasoline.

END LEACH TRIAL NEARED ITS CLOSE THURSDAY MORNING

EASTLAND, May 22.—(P)—No verdict in a been reached shortly before noon today in the trial here of Danny Leach, Cisco youth, charged with slaying a man identified as Jack Johnson of Golden, Colo.

The case went to the jury late last night after the defendant had testified. He denied testimony given by A. B. Morton, state witness, that he had told Morton he had taken the man out to rob him and shot him.

The man, found wounded fatally in a gravel pit on the outskirts of Cisco, was at first identified as R. C. Hill.

EASTLAND, May 22.—(P)—The fate of Danny Leach, Cisco youth, was expected to rest with a jury today in his murder trial here.

IT'S WISE TO CHOOSE A SIX

These modern features make it wise to choose a Chevrolet Six

In selecting a low-priced car, bear these all-important facts in mind:

The new Chevrolet is a Six—and six cylinders make a wonderful difference—in smooth, quiet, flexible, long-lasting motor car performance.

Chevrolet also offers the all-weather security of perfectly equalized four-wheel brakes that are completely enclosed, both front and rear, against mud and water.

Chevrolet gives you the comfort and safety of four long semi-elliptic springs, which are mounted in the direction of car travel, and are controlled by four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers.

Chevrolet uses the modern "pump" method of fuel supply, which makes it possible to mount the gasoline tank in the rear, away from the engine and car occupants.

Chevrolet is the only car in its price field that offers Body by Fisher. And that means not only the style, smartness and distinction of costly cars, but it means hardwood-and-steel body construction—the strongest, safest and most durable type known to the industry.

WIFE'S DECLINES LARGE ALLOWANCE AFTER MARRIAGE

WILL LIVE ON HUSBAND'S
SALARY OF $35 PER WEEK
SHE ASSERTS

NEW YORK, May 22.—(P)—The Daily News says today that Dolores Elizabeth Ford, 24, daughter of William Ford, Toledo, O., glass manufacturer, has instructed her father to discontinue her $12,000 annual allowance and intends to live on the $35 a week wages of her husband, a plumber's assistant.

Miss Matthews, the plumber's daughter, is her fourth husband, whom she married immediately after the annulment in Buffalo, N. Y., of her marriage to Eugene Newton, a mulatto cabaret employee, May 1920.

The News quoted Mrs. Matthews as saying:

"I am not planning on using any of my father's money. I don't want any of it. I told daddy that I was marrying Lou and that we would live on his $35 salary. My father told me he would continue my allowance until I asked him to stop—and I have done just that. I have written to his secretary, telling him that, from now on we are on our own."

Matthews said they were going to Richmond, Va., his home where he has a job helping to put up a metal garage.

In New York the couple are occupying a $7-a-day hotel room.

BURGLAR ENTERED HIGH SCHOOL; SAFE OPENED AND ROBBED

Using a pinbar to force the latch on a window on the west side of the building, parties unknown entered the Corsicana High school sometime Wednesday night and secured between $40 and $50 from the safe in the office of Superintendent H. D. Fillers, according to information secured from Chief of Police Will S. Knight.

An attempt was made on the safe in the principal's office, which contained about $150, but failed when the drill failed to strike the combination of the safe. Both safes had their knobs knocked off.

The robbery was discovered about 6 o'clock Thursday morning by one of the janitors, who immediately notified the police. Officers Seaton and Sparks made an investigation and gave orders that nothing should be disturbed until an examination had been made by Sergeant R. A. Mergenthaler, fingerprint expert.

The intruder smashed the lock on the door of both the principal's and superintendent's offices. The files in the superintendent's office were rifled, but no papers were thought to be missing. Nothing was disturbed in the office of the principal when the attempt to open the large vault failed. The vault contained about $100. The loss was covered by blanket insurance.

About $350 in cash and checks was secured when the building was entered about the middle of December, 1920.

SMALL ARSENAL IS CAPTURED IN RAID LONG ISLAND STILL

NEW YORK, May 22.—(P)—Long Island police today had a rum runner's arsenal of 28 guns and ammunition, enough to wage extensive warfare, all seized in a raid on an old barn in Manorville which housed a 1,000 gallon still.

Two sheriffs raided the barn and besides the still found 21 rifles, three equipped with silencers, seven sawed-off shotguns, one automatic pistol and ammunition for all. They arrested Joseph Elmira and Tony Palma, both of whom said they lived in Manhattan.

On the other side of New York City the Coast Guard station at Clifton, Staten Island, captured a rum running launch, the Anna-belle, and sank another rum craft in Staten Island Sound.

Chief Boatswain Mate J. S. Barrett said the crew saw escape was impossible and set their boat afire. The three members of the crew were poked up by the cutter, but the launch, blazing fiercely, sank before fireboats from St. George could arrive.

His grandfather, the late Stephen W. Blount, was one of the signers of the Lone Star State's Declaration of Independence and moved its adoption, and he also nominated General Sam Houston as the first president of the Republic.

Mr. Blount operates one of the largest farms in Nacogdoches County, and is active in the local Chamber of Commerce and other agencies working for civic and agricultural advancement.

The new president of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce already has drafted plans for conducting the organization's work on the district plan, in accordance with the action of the recent annual convention at Port Arthur. Under the new plan, the seventy-three counties served by the regional Chamber of Commerce will be grouped into seven districts, on a basis of common soil and agricultural conditions, community of interests and trade relations. The organization machinery in each district will be composed of a vice-president as general chairman, a county council over each county, and various sub-chairmen and committees under the county councilors. District meetings for the discussion of economic problems will be features of the new plan.

CARD OF THANKS.

Words can't express our thanks to those who were so kind to us during the recent illness and death of our dearly loved sons and brothers. We thank those who contributed the beautiful floral offerings during our hour of sorrow. We also wish to thank Dr. Logsdon and the nurses of the Navarro County Hospital who rendered their services during our hour of need. May God bestow His richest blessings upon each and every one of you, is our prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fiew and Family.

OBITUARY.

Our home is sad today as we go to our work, for we miss you so much, Johnnie and Printiss. Your merry smile and jolly disposition, each and every one loved you both so much. They were kind to little sisters and brothers, and a favorite in their school. There are two vacant chairs at our table that no one else can fill. I did not know that water was so cold, nephews, until you crossed on the other side and left your dear family. Sleep on, dear nephews, and some day we will meet you on the other shore.

A tribute to my nephews, Johnnie and Printiss Fiew.

CORSICANA IS GROWING FAST

Almost doubled population during past ten years.

1930 Population---For Greater Corsicana
20,703

A gain over 1920 of 9,347 people

Federal census within city limits 15,195

Census adjacent suburbs - - - 5,508

Total, - - - - - 20,703

(The census of the adjacent suburbs of Corsicana were taken by the Daily Sun and adopted by the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce.)

The city limits of Corsicana have not been extended for over twenty years, and the city has been bulging over its corporate limits in all directions during all this time

Over 34 per cent Gain Within City Limits;

*Over 80 per cent Gain
In Greater Corsicana*

The normal and average gain of a community between the census periods of ten years is from 10 to 15 per cent increase which is evidence that Corsicana is growing rapidly.

Corsicana is the County Seat of Navarro County, which is eighth in county population in Texas, and is the trading center of a trade territory of over 200,000 people.

In addition to a substantial building program now going on, with more to follow there will be spent this summer on public improvements over $600,000.00.

CONSIDERING that this is the population of the city in normal times, and there are no oil or other booms of any kind responsible for this substantial gain makes this growth of the city all the more important.

All of this big gain was made regardless of great handicap of bad roads.

Also, this gain demonstrates without a doubt that Corsicana is growing fast with a safe and substantial background for continued growth.

With the new system of Federal, State and County permanent roads now under construction, together with the fact that Corsicana is the trading wholesale and retail center of a wide agricultural area in the Black Land Belt of Central Texas, there is every reason to predict a brighter future than ever before.

GOOD ROADS MAKE A CITY, and before the year is out almost all of our serious road problems will be over and forgotten, and Corsicana will be well on its way to double its population before the next census.

The increase of census alone within the city limits is more than the entire population of the 1930 census of Teague, which gives one an idea of what a growth we have enjoyed during the past ten years.

In addition to being an agricultural center, Corsicana is also an oil and industrial center.

Corsicana is an important center of population, and dominates a wide trade territory all its own.

Let everyone keep on pushing and looking forward for a greater city and we will soon reach our goal, out of which all will enjoy the benefits.

HOUSTON PASTOR NAMED ON NINTH BALLOT WEDNESDAY

FORMER CORNICANA RESIDENT CHOICE OF GENERAL METHODIST CONFERENCE

DALLAS, May 21.—(P)—Electing Dr. A. Frank Smith of Houston to the third new place in the College of Bishops and adopting the unified board program drawn up by a special committee, the quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, today disposed of the major items of business on its program.

Dr. Smith was elected after the withdrawal of Dr. Forney Hutchinson, Oklahoma City, made the selection of Dr. D. D. Ellis appear almost certain. Factors judged to be detrimental to Dr. Ellis' chances were his age, and the fact that he had already occupied the important position of secretary of church extension, which pays a larger salary than the $6,000 salary of a bishop.

After Dr. Hutchinson's withdrawal, Dr. Smith was elected on his last ballot found him with 240 ballots to 129 for Ellis. It required 221 ballots to elect.

The three new bishops—Smith, Paul B. Kern and Arthur J. Moore—are the youngest in the college.

Under the able leadership of Dr. Kern, all opposition to coordination of the Epworth league, Sunday school and educational boards under a new board to be known as the board of Christian education was swept away, and the final adoption was nearly unanimous.

As well as having jurisdiction over the Epworth league and Sunday schools, the board will control all denominational schools and colleges, prescribing courses of study and supervising all work of education in the church, from the primary grades to the college work. It will be one of the largest such organizations in the religious world.

Church Divided Into Sixteen Districts

DALLAS, May 21.—(P)—Dr. A. Frank Smith of Houston showed an unexpected large gain on the seventh ballot in the voting on a third new bishop for the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at the general conference here today. He jumped from 20 votes on the sixth ballot to 112 votes on the seventh.

Dr. T. D. Ellis of Louisville received 100 votes on the seventh ballot. It was learned that Dr. Forney Hutchinson had told delegates last night of his intention to withdraw from the race, and it was said a number of the delegates were trying to select a Western man that would be suitable for the place.

On the eighth ballot Dr. Ellis received 172 votes, a loss of 18, and Dr. Smith gained 49, giving him a total of 161.

Hutchinson said that he did not care for administrative work, preferring to stay "close to the people." He said that were the bishops' term four years instead of life, he would accept since then it would be due to both himself and the church to ascertain whether he were fitted for the job. Dr. Hutchinson received 199 votes and Dr. Ellis 172 on the sixth ballot.

The report of the Episcopacy committee dividing the church into 16 Episcopal districts was adopted as presented by the committee on Episcopacy. The districts follow:

- No. 1—Baltimore, Virginia, conferences.
- No. 2—North Carolina, Western North Carolina, Cuba, Latin Florida.
- No. 3—South Carolina, Upper South Carolina.
- No. 4—North Georgia, South Georgia and Florida.
- No. 5—Alabama and North Alabama.
- No. 6—Louisiana, Mississippi and Northern Mississippi.
- No. 7—Holston, Memphis and Tennessee.
- No. 8—West Virginia, Kentucky, and Louisville.
- No. 9—Missouri, St. Louis, Southwest Missouri and Oklahoma.
- No. 10—North Arkansas, Little Rock, Illinois and Indiana.
- No. 11—Brazil.
- No. 12—Belgium, Czechoslovakia and Polish Mission.
- No. 13—China, Korea, and Siberian Mission.
- No. 14—Northwest Pacific, Arizona and Oriental Mission.
- No. 15—West Texas, Central Texas, New Mexico and Texas Methodist Mission.
- No. 16—North Texas, Texas and Northwest Texas.

AT REST

Mrs. Laura Jane English, wife of J. T. English of Lueders, Texas, died Thursday noon, May 8, 1930, at her home at Lueders. Mrs. English, nee Miss Laura Jane Wray, was born January 6, 1874, at Old Cross Roads, two miles south of Frost, Texas, and on July 19, 1896, was united in marriage to J. T. English. To this union six children, two boys and four girls, were born, all of whom are still living. These and 15 relatives had gathered to be with their idolized mother as her life slowly ebbed away and to give her all the tender care that was possible.

Mrs. English accepted Christ as her savior under the ministry of her father, Rev. J. G. Way, at Warren Chapel, near Purdon, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at Jones Ranch, of which church she was a faithful member until her death. She loved her church and lived a true Christian life, never complaining of the hand of affliction laid upon her in her last years. Mrs. English lived a life in her home that was a good Christian life and made a good Christian home for her children and lived to see all of them unite with her church. Mrs. English never grew tired of doing service for her church, her neighbors or her lodge.

Funeral services were held at the home of Mrs. Laura Blackburn of Frost, her niece. The services were conducted by Rev. W. W. Richardson, pastor of the Methodist church at Frost. Rev. A. B. English, pastor of the Methodist church at Paris, and Rev. Walter Griffith of Corsicana assisted in the services. The body was interred in the Frost cemetery beside the beloved niece of the deceased, in the presence of a large assembly, at 3 o'clock on Mother's Day, Sunday, May 11, 1930.

KENNETH COPELAND PREACHED HIS FIRST SERMON AT AGE FOURTEEN IN OKLAHOMA

EVANGELISTIC FIELD GOAL SET BY LAD AT COMPLETION COLLEGE

WILL DELIVER ANNUAL BACCALAUREATE SERMON FOR HIS GRADUATING CLASS

When Kenneth Copeland, at the age of 14 years preached his first sermon in the little country town of Warwick, Okla., on the third Sunday night of August, 1926, and had eight conversions, another link was forged in the chain of his family's history of producing men to take their places in the world to preach the Christian religion.

His father, grandfather, three uncles, and three great uncles, were ministers of the gospel before him. Kenneth Copeland, who is 18 years old, is a senior in the Corsicana high school and is co-pastor of the Methodist Protestant church, of which his father, Rev. J. W. Copeland, is the pastor. He was born April 3, 1912, at Exzar, Ark., where his father was pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church. At the age of seven years his family moved to Lincoln county, Oklahoma, where they lived for about eight years. In July, 1926, they moved to Texas, and were situated in Wortham, and in November of the same year located in Corsicana. Young Copeland received his primary education in different towns in Oklahoma, and his high school work in Texas schools.

"My highest ambition," said the youthful minister in conversation with a Dallas Sun representative, "is to see the world evangelized. I have been snatched at odd times in the corridors and conference periods at the high school for a series of evangelistic work after finishing my college study and to be of the utmost service to humanity in reaching the world with the gospel of Jesus Christ. My present aim in life," he said, "is to help young people to overcome temptations, and to be able to explain things to them that will make them better citizens and church members."

In over 18 revival meetings which the youthful preacher has conducted in Texas, Oklahoma, and Arkansas with his father, more than 100 people have been converted after listening to his sermons. Last summer at a revival meeting in Wortham, the largest number of people at any of his meetings were converted, with 106 professing the Christian religion. When queried as to other religious activities Copeland pointed with pride to the fact that since the fall of 1929 he has solemnized five marriage ceremonies and baptized twelve people into the Methodist Protestant church. Through not compromising with the world, he has been able to maintain his popularity with fellow school students and associates, young Copeland is a true exponent of the younger generation and believes that young people as a whole are no more loose in their morals than their forefathers were, considering the greater number of sinful agencies now in operation.

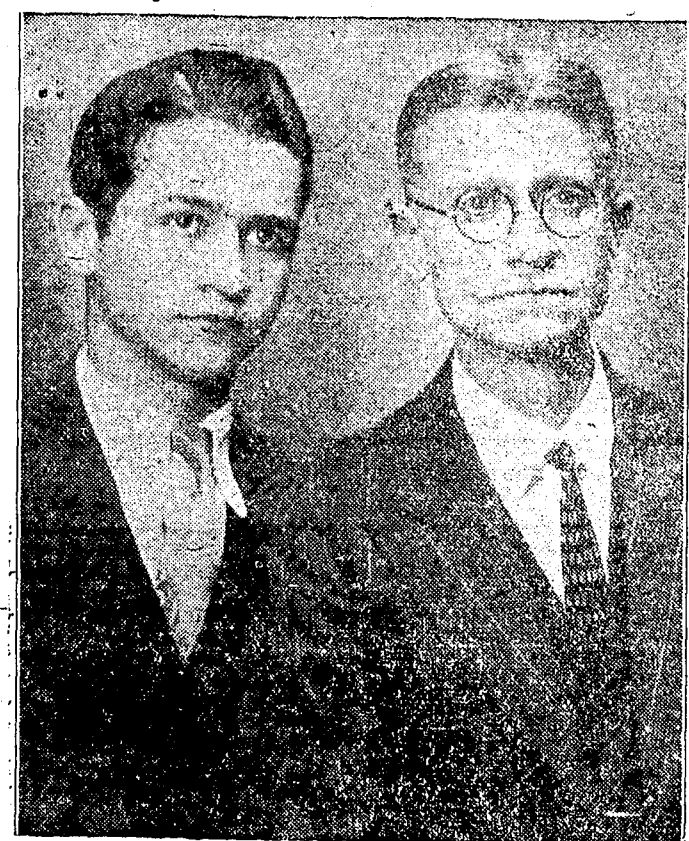

He declared that he had no intention of being a part of a generation ago. "I will condemn sin to the fullest extent of my ability," he declared, "but from my constant association with boys and girls of the high school age I will not censure them as a whole."

Older People to Blame "Young people of today have ideals and ambitions, which are properly cultivated by their parents, will reap a great beneficial harvest. A large percent of moral failures in boys and girls today, he said, "are due to improper and faulty home training, and bad examples set by older people. I warn young people not to go wrong simply because older people set bad examples and because of wrong influences. I don't think that is a legitimate excuse."

"The Bible says that if children are trained properly at home they will not depart from that training later in life," he said. The boy preacher said he wants to show boys and girls of today that it is not necessary to go around with "a long sad face," in order to be religious, but that they can have a good time and get enjoyment out of life in a really reverent way, and within the bounds of reason.

Young Copeland is convinced that he was called directly in 1924 to preach, after a constant urge and longing to enter that profession.

Plans Series Revivals. The boy preacher and his father have planned a series of revival campaigns in various towns of Texas, to begin as soon as school is out here. Copeland is popular in high school activities, having the distinction of being the only member to be invited and unanimously elected to join the Corsicana Hi-Y club. He represented the Corsicana high school in extemporaneous speaking at the University of Texas Inter-scholastic literary meet, held in Frost, and later went to the district meet in Hillsboro. He has spoken to the student body on numerous occasions. CANNON OPPONENT EXPECTED TO FILE FORMAL PROTEST

FITZHUGH CLAIMS ADDITIONAL EVIDENCE TO SUPPORT MARKET CHARGES

DALLAS, May 21.—(AP)—Seeking to reopen what most delegates considered a closed issue, Judge G. T. Fitzhugh of Memphis today prepared to file with the quadrennial general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, his formal protest to the exonerated Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Washington, D. C., on charges of stock market speculation.

Fitzhugh said he had new evidence to support his latest attack on the temperance bishop around whom most of the controversy of the Dallas conference has centered. He considered the actions of the committee on episcopacy illegal in exonerating Cannon after it had voted to bring him to trial.

This evidence, it was learned, included several telegrams purported to have been exchanged between Cannon and Company, the brokers, and Cannon, while the bishop was visiting his foreign charges in Brazil.

It appeared doubtful that Fitzhugh's second attack would be more successful than the first. The overwhelming majority by which the committee exonerated Cannon, the reception he was given when he publicly acknowledged his mistake, and the fact that he received when he presided at yesterday afternoon's session indicated that sentiment had turned in favor of the temperance leader.

Josephus Daniels, almost equally prominent as a temperance worker, and one of those who sought to bring Cannon to trial, in a statement indicated his belief that Cannon had been saved "by the quality of mercy, which drops on erring bishops and congoan alike."

He expressed the opinion that some laymen "doubted" the genuineness of Cannon's penitence, inasmuch as it came "after a trial had been ordered," but added that the policy of Methodism was too forgiving in sin on confession and repentance, followed by the promise to "sin no more."

Roberts will succeed the late Associate Justice Edwin Terry Sanford, to whose post Parker was nominated. The new member of the highest court is recognized as an outstanding lawyer and gained national distinction through his services as a special government prosecutor in the oil scandal cases. BISHOP CANNON IS VINDICATED BEFORE CONFERENCE EYES

METHODIST LEADER SAYS HE FELL INTO HANDS OF SHARPERS; NOT REPEAT

DALLAS, May 20. (AP)—

The contrition of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., plus the publicity given his case, saved him from a church trial on charges of stock market speculation, it was disclosed today in the report of the committee on Episcopacy of the quadrennial general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

The bishop's contribution was shown as he made an oral statement to the conference after the committee's exonerating report was submitted. Tears in his eyes, he begged back to his seat after he had publicly admitted that he made a mistake.

Years of another sort welled in the eyes of other members of the conference. Judge G. T. Fitzhugh of Memphis, the principal accuser of the bishop. His face red with anger, he gained the attention of the chair after the report was read, and protested against the report, which he charged was irregular and illegal. A few hisses and many cheers greeted the report.

The committee report disclosed that a previous action had ordered a trial for Cannon, but that this action had been rescinded. "Your committee decided," the report said, "that if by a trial the bishop's 'improper conduct' could be established, such a finding would be tempered by his avowal that his actions were committed without knowing that he was acting in anything unworthy of ministerial character and hurtful to the church; that the expressed contrition of spirit and regret that his actions had brought pain and embarrassment to the church would not be ignored by Christian believers, and that his definite statement of purpose never again to engage in such practice could not be disregarded."

Therefore your committee agreed that the development of this case as stated, together with the publicity here given, would accomplish as much a defense of the church's position as would be accomplished by a trial committee.

The report included the letter of Bishop Cannon, sent after the committee already had voted to bring him to trial, and which persuaded the committee to rescind its action. "I now realize the impropriety of such transactions," the bishop wrote, "and am sorely grieved that I have brought pain and embarrassment to the church."

These statements were repeated by Bishop Cannon orally today. "I desire," he said, "in the presence of the members of this body to reiterate face to face the statements in my letter to the committee. I did make a mistake in the transaction in question; I sincerely regret that mistake, especially as I have learned that my actions have injured the church."

In the first paragraph of its report the committee told how it had about faced on the matter of trying him.

Complaints Supported. "These complaints touching upon his stock market transactions were presented in detail and supported by exhibits. The bishop was given all the time he desired to make a full statement. After hearing the statement the committee decided to invite the bishop to the general conference for trial, and a sub-committee was appointed to draft the charges and report its findings. Then the committee received a communication from Bishop Cannon. After receiving this letter, the original action was rescinded."

Mr. Fitzhugh gave formal notice that the additional evidence, obtained after the sealing of the records of the bishop's case, would be presented to the committee.

Although workmen were still engaged in making repairs to the roof of the building, classes were resumed in the Frost high school building Monday.

CLASSES RESUMED FROST HI SCHOOL BUILDING MONDAY

Additional features of a new city plan of construction were presented Monday afternoon by John E. Surratt, secretary of the Kessler Plan Association of Dallas. Mr. Surratt made a trip to the city after the storm and gave the citizens the benefit of his experience at the invitation of the Red Cross and the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce.

Monday afternoon the city plan conferred with numerous property holders in the business district of Frost, and engaged in a lengthy discussion of reconstruction problems.

Plans are now being prepared for several new business houses in Frost, and actual construction is expected to start in the near future.

Two days of sunshine have dried the roads to such an extent the ease with which they can be reached is a section of their area, and work of rehabilitation is well under way through the American National Red Cross.

Additional sound pictures were made in Frost Monday and will be shown at the second benefit performance to be given in Dallas in the near future.

Ninety-two persons returned Monday for the second of their treatments for typhoid fever, and a large number of others are continuing the treatments. Some are now taking the first shots.

CANNON CONTINUES TO GAIN VICTORIES OVER HIS ACCUSERS

DALLAS, May 22. (AP)—

Complete vindication for Bishop James Cannon of Washington, D. C., storm center of the quadrennial general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, today denied the privilege of printing the protest in church records and ordered it returned to its framers.

A short time before Fitzhugh's protest, Cannon's exonerated by the committee on Episcopacy.

The conference thought otherwise, and the bishop's protest was denied the privilege of printing the protest in church records and ordered it returned to its framers.

FOLLY OF UNPREPAREDNESS IS PICTURED IN A PARABLE

Stupid Versus Sensible in Story of Ten Virgins—Light From the Orient — Being Ready the Secret of Success.

When it comes to common sense, and the exercise thereof, human nature divides about on a fifty-fifty basis, as in this Lesson story.

Here were ten young women, in conditions that naturally incited to the exercise of alertness and good judgment; for if a wedding does not interest a young woman, nothing else can. Yet only five of them were sensible, and the other five were stupid. Had they made the natural, expected preparation for the occasion, by assuring a reserve supply of oil for their hand lamps; the other five, with easy-going improvidence, had trusted to luck.

Many pious interpretations will be given to this parable by myriads of Sunday School teachers; but to me the first lesson of all is that of the need of plain, downy common sense in all the relationships of life. A little more sound thinking would go farther to eliminate current evils than a deal of organization and propaganda and spiritual hysteria.

Why do "society" young people drink? Simply because they haven't any better sense.

Why do so many young men play the fool, destroy the happiness of their families, and make shipwreck of their whole future? Only because they do not either possess adequate intelligence, or else do not use it.

Why are our colleges and "literary" publications filled with half-baked ideas, especially along sex and other sociological lines? There is no other reason than a lack of sound judgment and thorough cerebration.

Why is the nation cursed with widespread unemployment and industrial strife? Not for profound economic reasons; but, primarily, because employers are so often men without imagination, vision, and first-class mentality.

Why have so many church folk, especially of the "intelligent" group, the religious education "experts," wandered off after thin psychology and wordy pedagogy and unreal philosophy, and abandoned the plain teachings of Scripture and the facts of human nature? Merely because they do not possess that helpful fruit of the Spirit of God—plain common sense. Kipling describes them as "The brittle intellectuals, who crack beneath a strain."

Why do all of us, like the foolish virgins in the Lesson, so often fall down on our obvious duties and deprive ourselves of expected happiness?

We find the answer in the Lesson: we are simply stupid and unthinking and unready. If we only had more sense we should show more saintliness—which is sanctity, soundness, wholeness, holiness. Spiritually prepared for the lesson of our Lesson, is the full exercise of the faculties given us by God.

As it is Done In The Orient. There is profound central meaning, as well as many an incidental parable, in the elaborateness of an oriental wedding, and its public celebration, participation in by hosts of friends. For this demonstration testifies to the deep—racially deep—reverence of the East for the sanctity of the family.

These wedding customs, which have continued unchanged for thousands of years, are a rebuke to even the flighty thought of "companionate marriage," and to the other loose ideas concerning the family which shallow-pated westerners often discuss and occasionally practice.

In Bible Lands there is no sneaking off to a justice of the peace to get married; no civil, superficial visit to a preacher. Marriage is the high event of two young persons' lives. It is so important and so sacred and so significant that it is marked in preparation and ceremony and celebration. So grave an affair is the founding of a new home that it is surrounded by the accumulated usages and pomp of the ages; and with elaborate festivities which proclaim its character and import.

So it was an appeal to the common knowledge and deep interest of people that Jesus made, when He described a wedding party wherein five of the attendant maidens had kept their lamps filled, whereas the other five had let them grow empty; and the shame of the bride and bridegroom, and to the discomfort and deprivation of the heedless young women themselves. For thus every person's inactivity troubles both himself and others.

A glance at the ancient clay lamp makes clear the parable used by Jesus. The supply of crude oil, such as natives have gathered in the Mesopotamian fields since the days of Noah, is limited in the case of these small hand lamps; and a reserve store must be kept at hand. The lamp, without sufficient oil, is useless and a mockery.

Putters-Off and Putters-Through. Every employer, every teacher, every leader of his fellows, will agree that people of all ages and conditions may be grouped into two classes—the putters-off and the putters-through; the ready and the unready; the fit and the unfit; the wise and the foolish. With His uncanny sense of reality, Jesus pictures this parable of the prepared and the unprepared.

For a college examination a student may make special and intensive preparation. But life is not like that. Preparedness must be general and ceaseless; for there are no fixed dates for the arrival of opportunities and duties and crises. To be ready at all we must be always ready. The Boy Scouts have the master motto: "Be Prepared." I know a youngster who, fifteen years ago, had lately been a Boy Scout, and had studied the nature and cure of snake-bites. Within a week he saved the life of a companion who was bitten by a snake. That same boy, now a young physician, avid for all forms of medical knowledge, had recently mastered the first publication of a new method of diagnosis and remedy for a mysterious affliction of children; and in three days he had opportunity to give back a dying child to its parents, restored by what they regarded as a miracle. Ah! the glory and power of preparedness for great opportunities!

In His vivid story, Jesus pictured Himself as the Bridegroom, coming unexpectedly; and His admonition was, "Watch, therefore, for ye know not the day nor the hour." Here we come to a sweeping and searching generalization: TO BE READY FOR CHRIST IS TO BE READY FOR EVERYTHING. All of life's lesser comings, of opportunities for service, of temptations, of disaster, of love of happiness—are best prepared for by being ready and alert for the coming of Christ; be that coming a spiritual experience, the sudden arrival of death, or the advent of the Lord Himself in millennial glory.

SEVEN CSENTENCE SERMONS

Our greatest glory consists not in never falling, but in rising every time we fall.—Goldsmith.

If a thing is possible and proper to man deem it attainable by thee.—Marcus Aurelius.

Heaven is not reached at a single bound. But we build the ladder by which we rise. From the lowly earth to the vaulting skies. And we mount its summit round by round.—Anon.

The measure of man's life is the well-spring of it, not the length.—Plutarch.

In the time of trouble He shall hide me in His pavilion; in the secret of His tabernacle shall He hide me; He shall set me up upon a rock.—Psalm 27:5.

A verse of a Lapland song is haunting my memory still: "A boy's will is the wind's will, And the thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts."—Henry W. Longfellow.

The power of going out of one's self and seeing and appreciating whatever is noble and loving in another is one of God's best gifts.—Thomas Hughes.
